RED BRICK TOUR

"A glimpse into the unique niche of historical renovation."

by: Christina Lara

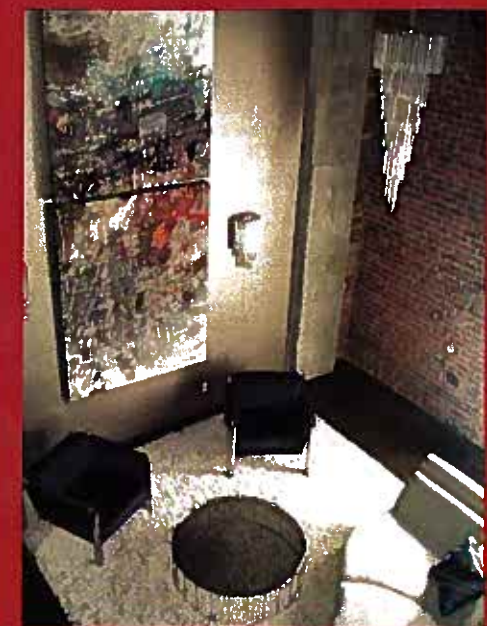

RVM Associates hosted the "Red Brick Tour" on Saturday, May 24. The real estate and investment firm was founded by Doug Huberman in 2007. It specializes in historical renovation projects creating urban in-fill and developing mixed-use commercial and residential real estate projects.

The Red Brick Tour was a self-guided interior and exterior design tour of Old Pasadena landmark buildings featuring seven unique residential and commercial units. The tour showcased the thoughtfully updated Boston-Centennial Building at 35 Raymond Street, which had six stops, as well as 35 Union Street, which had one stop.

The Boston-Centennial Building was completely renovated by RVM Associates in 2006 making the four-story historic building updated and built to LEED standards. It now features 33 modern and environmentally sound mixed commercial and residential units that overlook the Tournament of Roses Parade Route.

Those who toured Union Street visited Suite C, the Office of Connon, Wood, Scheidmantle, LLP. The interior of the office was designed by Barbosa Polverini's SoCal Development Service and featured imaginative lighting and customized credenzas.

The tour offered just a glimpse into the unique niche of historical renovation and condominium projects that RVM Associates has excelled in. For additional information about RVM Associates please visit: RVMAssociates.com.
